The Big Move

After a year of planning and remodeling of space in the lower level of Roseville city hall, the HVAC system to preserve the artifacts was installed, shelving was ordered and new archival storage boxes were put in place.

On April 2, the Roseville Historical Society moved from the old Fire Station #2 to the lower level of Roseville City Hall. Two Men and a Truck were hired and arrived at 8:00 a.m. With six men, two trucks and 4 hours of hard work all artifacts and office equipment was loaded. By 5:30 p.m., both trucks were unloaded and items placed in the new space at city hall. A special thank you to the Roseville Community Fund for a grant that paid for most of the moving cost.

Then the work for the volunteers began. A Minnesota Historical and Cultural Heritage grant purchased archival storage materials and provided a consultant to work with the volunteers to learn how to properly store artifacts and place in new boxes. A group of volunteers worked 5 long days on the "restoring" project and the work continues.

President's Message

Hello Members!

It happened! We're here! We've relocated!

A special thank you to the volunteers for all your time and hard work, archiving, putting shelves together, restoraging, and moving boxes. It has been a long time coming and it sure is nice to see all the progress. Of course, this would not be possible without all of you! There is still room for more volunteers so if you are thinking you have some time on your hands, let us know. We will find something for you to do in any amount of volunteer time you have.

Once we have a majority of the items restoraged, we will let you know and send out an invite to see us. There will also be an open house with a ribbon cutting ceremony. It is so exciting!

Again, I want to thank all the volunteers for the hard work and time they have donated. We are the best!

Rynetta Renford

May Program

A Roseville Story Chapter 2 History and New Visions By Bob Murphy

This presentation is the 2nd in a series of talks by photographer and visual artist Bob Murphy. Bob Murphy grew up in Roseville and began taking photographs of the city during the 60s and 70s. The talk is about common experiences and memories beginning in the 1950s. He connects midcentury history with living in Roseville today.

The presentation includes a short film that was made especially for this talk. Murphy will show his photographs and talk about the significance of his Roseville neighborhood, school, friends and family.

The presentation will give people who are not familiar with the early years of Roseville a sense of what it was like to come of age during the 50s and 60s. For those who grew up in Roseville it is an opportunity to revisit days gone by and consider how history has influenced our contemporary lives.

We are moved! All our artifacts were moved and stacked in our room at city hall. They all have to be repacked with acid-free paper and boxes, etc.

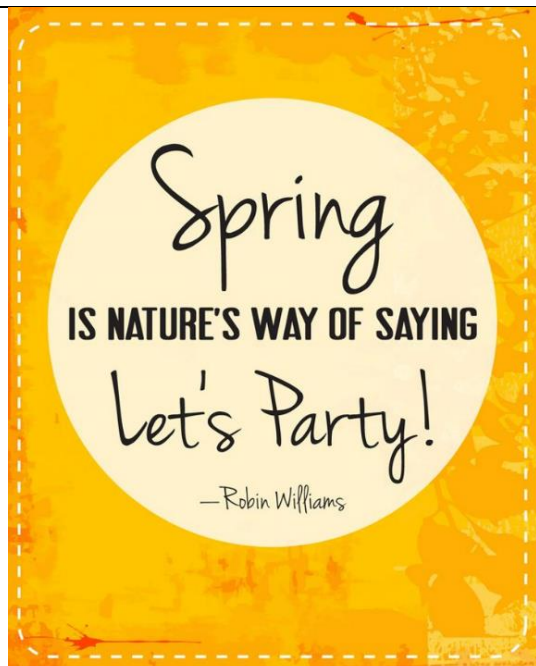

We hired a consultant with grant funds to come and show us how to do that. Many volunteers have helped so far to redo these items. Much is still left to be done.

We have nice new shelving to put them on in their new boxes. There are quite a few farming and old-fashioned items not 'boxable', but we'll find a place for them, too. That's what Roseville was all about when it began

Betty Danks and I have lived here all our lives when it was just farms – Rose Township, and a lot of history has gone by. Our mothers and fathers used some of the same things to do their work on the farms.

When all the artifacts are boxed, we can then work on our office space. It's exciting, but lots of work.

Many thanks to all the volunteers who gave us 266 ½ hours of their time to help us. We can always use more help getting all the artifacts packed up and the office area arranged.

Heritage Directors

By Sharon Pillen and Joyce DuFresne

Spring started in the kitchen in the month of January and it sure helped with getting through the long winter. It is an exciting year with our new museum, and all that we have to offer. As we start our garden planting, I would like to help others interested in learning the art of canning. Together we can work with your recipes or I can share mine with you.

Our craft shows have started with Curves in Little Canada, NE Minneapolis and church art fairs. Be sure and see us at Central Park the 4th of July. With our new museum we will always have a display of products to see and buy.

I will always be looking and needing jars of any size, sugar, baskets, rhubarb and extra vegetables you may have in your gardens. People have enjoyed all that we have made. Just a reminder of the products available: Rhubarb Jams, Apple Butter, Lotion, Barbecue Sauce, Cucumber Relish, Horse Radish and Pickled Asparagus, Beets, Carrots, Green-Beans, Red onions.

Recipe to share: Spinach Salad

Dressing

2/3 cup of mayo

1/3 of a 6oz frozen orange juice concentrate---Mix together in bowl.

Wash and drain desired amount of spinach.

Remove stems and/or cut to size.

1 diced apple--Toss mixture and drizzle with dressing

Topping if desired--crumbled bacon and walnuts --- enjoy.

See you at the museum.
